William Swift, the immigrant ancestor of the Swift family of early 1600s Sandwich, Mass.

The first treatment of the William Swift family was by George Henry Swift in 1900 in "William Swyft of Sandwitch and some of his Descendants, 1637-1887." This work is incomplete regarding the first generation in America and includes association errors. The more factual sketch of the immigrant was pub. by Jane Fletcher Fiske, FASG in 2002 in The American Genealogist ("William Swift, Citizen and Leatherseller of London, and Planter of Sandwich, Massachusetts," TAG 77(July 2002):161). The latter was used as the basis of the sketch of the immigrant by Robert Charles Anderson in The Great Migration Begins series by the NEHGS (GMB, VI:626). The following is an abbreviation of the more pertinent facts, the reader referred to the latter two works for more extensive detail.

William Swift m. 1) a presumptive Sarah by whom he had at least the four children summarized below, all likely born at St. Mary Magdalen Bermondsey, Surrey, England. Also known as Bermondsey St. Mary Magdalen, since the mid-1800s Bermondsey has been part of metropolitan London south of the River Thames and is its own civil registration district.

Only the last two children have known baptism records and only one came to America with her father and step-mother. William's presumptive first wife Sarah was bur. of record Aug. 24, 1625 at St. Mary Magdalen:

• i. Edward Swift, b. circa 1618; was bound an apprentice on May 8, 1633 for a seven year term to George Andrews, butcher, interpreted by the memorialist to likely have been when Edward was at or about the age of 14. He was made "free" July 2, 1640, but no further confirmed record has been found for him.

• ii. Hannah Swift, b. circa 1620, d. Jan. 31, 1664/5 at Sandwich, Mass.; m. Nov. 5, 1642 of record at Sandwich as his 1st wife, Daniel Wing, s. of Rev. John Wing and Deborah Bachilor (q.v. Bachelor), b. likely in England. He d. testate Mar. 10, 1697/8 at Sandwich. Nine children of the marriage.

• iii. John Swift, bap. June 26, 1622 at St. Mary Magdalen Bermondsey; bur. there three days later on June 29, 1622.

• iv. Mary Swift, bap. Aug. 21, 1625 at St. Mary Magdalen Bermondsey; bur. there two weeks later on Sept. 4, 1625.

On Jan. 3, 1625/6 of record at St. Mary Magdalen, William m. 2) Joan Dimbleby, widow of Roger Dimbleby. Joan's first marriage, which would provide her maiden name, has not been found thus there is no proof that she was nee Sisson as often claimed; she had four children of record bap. then bur. in infancy at St. Mary Magdalen. First husband Roger Dimbleby was bur. at St. Mary Magdalen Sept. 15, 1625.

William Swift and 2nd wife Joan had three known children bap. at St. Mary Magdalen prior to immigrating to New England:

• v. William Swift, Jr., bap. Apr 25, 1627, d. Jan. 7, 1705/6 at Sandwich, Mass.; m. bef. 1652, wife Ruth, whose maiden name is unknown and who survived her husband. Ten children of the family.

• vi. Esther Swift, bap. May 28, 1629; m. bef. 1647 Ralph Allen, Jr. of Sandwich, Mass., who was deceased by Oct. 12, 1662 when his mother-in-law, the widow Joan Swift, made her will at Sandwich. Four known children of the family. The widow Esther (Swift) Allen, not her dau. Esther b. at Sandwich in 1648, m. 2) of record at Sandwich, Mass. on Feb. 14, 1664/5 as his 2nd of 3 wives, Henry Bull of Newport, Rhode Island, b. circa 1610 at England. She d. of record at Newport Mar. 26, 1676. There were no known children. Henry Bull, who subsequently was a Gov. of the Rhode Island Plantation, d. at his own residence at Newport on Jan. 22, 1693/4, "aged" 84.

• vii. Sarah Swift, bap. Aug. 7, 1631, bur. four weeks later on Sept. 8, 1631 at St. Mary Magdalen.

By virtue of dau. Sarah's bapt. and burial in 1631 at England, William Swift and family were not passengers of any vessel that sailed by April 1630 for New England as part of the "Winthrop Fleet."

William d. intestate either in late 1642 and certainly before Jan. 29, 1642/3 when his extensive estate inventory was exhibited at the Plymouth Court [MD 4:168]. Although administration of the estate was "graunted unto Joane the wyfe of Willm Swyft of Sandwich lately Deceased," there is no date specified in the record when that action occured. Because of the extensive list of persons William owed at his death, not just those who lived at or near Sandwich, it may have taken an extended period of time to complete the estate inventory, with William dying in the latter part of 1642 versus in January 1642/3.

The inventory is four pages long in the original record, totals £72.11.01 in moveables plus £10 for his house, land and meadow ground at Sandwich. Unfortunately, he owed a mortgage debt of £20.10 on a house at Sudbury, Mass. and the list of 18 persons William owed at his death totals in excess of £225. No corresponding list of persons who owed William appears and the only possible interpretation is that at his death William Swift's estate was substantially insolvent.

William and Joane Swift of Sandwich, 1637, were the progenitors of by far the most numerous of all these Swift families. Their descendants have been estimated to number many thousands. Among them are Senator Benjamin Swift of Vermont; Chief Justice Zephaniah Swift of Connecticut; Professor Lewis Swift, the astronomer; Gustavus Franklin Swift of Chicago, whose practical use of the refrigerator car made the packing industry what it is today; Alexander Swift of Cincinnati, a leader in the iron and steel business; Isaac and Ivan Swift, authors and writers [Ivan in northern MI]; Lemuel Swift, newspaperman.Great numbers were soldiers, serving in every war from the early campaigns against the savages to the World war.Among them were General Heman Swift of the Revolution; Generals John and Philetus Swift of the War of 1812; General Ebenezer Swift of the Mexican and Civil wars; General Frederick W. Swift of the Civil war; General Eben Swift of the latest war [World War I?]. Generals Lewis, Lindsay and Richard K. Swift served in state troops. In apparent contradiction to this military record is the fact that many of the Swift family were Quakers, and were inter-married with many of the prominent families belonging to that sect. During the years when persecution of the Quakers was at its most vicious point they stubbornly maintained their faith. At a time when, from their barren heritage, a meagre provision was the best could ever be gotten, a fine, that would sweep away the entire product of a year of toil, was given for such an offence as wearing one's hat at meeting or "for disturbing the public peace by his silent worship." Widow Joan herself was fined "for being at Quakers' meetings."
Perhaps the sailors were even more numerous than the soldiers, for in the brief annals of the family we often see the record "Lost at Sea." repeated from generation to generation. Rear Admiral William Swift during an important period was the head of the navy of the country.
Although William bought the largest farm in Sandwich, he died heavily in debt, too soon perhaps to establish himself firmly. His will shows that he owned "two shuites of apparell," one "coate," "two ruffbands and four playne bands" all appraised at something less than fifteen dollars of our money. It gives us pause to read of two muskets, two bandeliers, a "french bill and cosset," and a "hallbeard," but whether they show him to have been a man of war or whether they were the ordinary equipment of a settler of his day, we do not know. A "parcell of bookes" calls our attention, small as it evidently was.

Title: William Swyft came from England to Amer
William Swyft came from England to America probably in the Great Boston immigration of 1630-31. Savage says he probably came from Bocking, County Essex, or vicinity, but all Bocking Parish records were burned about the time of the Restoration. He may have descended from Robert Swyft and his wife Ann, whose tomb is in Rotherham Parish Church in Rotherham. Ann died in 1539 and Robert in 1561. William was a proprietor in Watertown, Mass. in 1634 and had been there for several years. He drew various proprietors lots in Watertown but sold his property in 1637 and moved to Sandwich, where he bought the largest farm in town. In 1642 he served in Lieutenant John Blackmer's Company. He died before January, 1643 as his inventory was shown at Court there and amounted to 72 pounds 11 shillings. On March 7, 1643 "Letters of Administration are graunted to Joane Swyft of Sandwich to administer upon her husbandes estate and to pay the debts as far as the estate will amount unto, by equal proporcons, and is bound to the Gov. and Assistantes to do it, & Daniell Wing with her." Joan survived her husband 20 years and died in Sandwich, November 26, 1663. Her will is in the Plymouth Colony Records, and Inventory amounted to 105 pounds 6 shillings. http://www.familytreemaker.com/users/r/u/n/Susan-E-Runyan/GENE1-0011.html . 650. William Swift, born April 15, 1589 in probably Bocking, County Suffolk, England; died January 1643/44 in Sandwich, Barnstable, Massachusetts. He was the son of 1300. William Swift and 1301. Janet Elizabeth Wilson. He married 651. Joan Session June 04, 1628 in England. 651. Joan Session, born Abt. 1576 in Blocking, Essex County, England; died November 26, 1663 in Sandwich, Barnstable, Massachusetts. Notes for William Swift: William Swyft came from England to America probably in the Great Boston immigration of 1630-31. Savage says he probably came from Bocking, County Essex, or vicinity, but all Bocking Parish records were burned about the time of the Restoration. He may have descended from Robert Swyft and his wife Ann, whose tomb is in Rotherham Parish Church in Rotherham. Ann died in 1539 and Robert in 1561. William was a proprietor in Watertown, Mass. in 1634 and had been there for several years. He drew various proprietors lots in Watertown but sold his property in 1637 and moved to Sandwich, where he bought the largest farm in town. In 1642 he served in Lieutenant John Blackmer's Company. He died before January, 1643 as his inventory was shown at Court there and amounted to 72 pounds 11 shillings. On March 7, 1643 "Letters of Administration are graunted to Joane Swyft of Sandwich to administer upon her husbandes estate and to pay the debts as far as the estate will amount unto, by equal proporcons, and is bound to the Gov. and Assistantes to do it, & Daniell Wing with her." Joan survived her husband 20 years and died in Sandwich, November 26, 1663. Her will is in the Plymouth Colony Records, and Inventory amounted to 105 pounds 6 shillings. Children of William Swift and Joan Session are: 325 i. Esther Swift, born Abt. 1620 in Bocking, Essex, England; died 1691 in Sandwich, Barnstable, MA; married Ralph Allen 1645 in Sandwich, Barnstable, MA. ii. Hannah Swift, married Daniel Wing November 05, 1641 in Sandwich, Barnstable, Massachusetts. iii. William Swift, born Abt. 1627 in England; died Abt. 1705 in Sandwich, Barnstable, MA; married Ruth Tobey Abt. 1645 in Sandwich,
